Dear Member,

On behalf of the Board of Trustees of Fairfield Electric Cooperative, I want to encourage you to participate in the 84th Annual Meeting of Members.

Your Board of Trustees has made the decision to hold this year's meeting using the same format as the past few years. We have received many positive comments about the registration process and feel the extended hours and multiple locations give members more opportunities to participate.

This year, you are being asked to approve changes to the cooperative's bylaws. These proposed amendments seek to eliminate confusing language in the existing bylaws, bring the bylaws into compliance with changes in state law, and provide a way to insure representation that best serves the needs of members. Your Board strongly encourages a favorable vote on the amendments.

In keeping with our fiscal goals and objectives, the cooperative is in good financial condition. Included in this report, you will find the cooperative's financial statement. Please take time to review the information.

Your Board of Trustees is committed to serving you. We recognize our responsibility to you and the objective of every decision we make is always directed toward what is best for our members.

Notice of Proposed Bylaw Changes

The Board of Trustees have proposed amendments to the Cooperative's bylaws. Members will vote on the proposed changes on the 2023 Annual Meeting Official Ballot. Attorney Jay Bender has provided an explanation of the proposed amendments and the proposed language for each section is provided for your review.

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSED BYLAW AMENDMENTS

By Jay Bender, Baker, Ravenel & Bender, L.L.P.

My review of the existing bylaws led me to the conclusion that there were provisions that were ambiguous, redundant, confusing or that diluted the authority of the board. Throughout I have sought to make certain references gender neutral, and to eliminate awkward grammar and inexplicable capitalization.

ARTICLE I—MEMBERSHIP

The categories of membership were designated as natural for human beings, and organizational for entities recognized in the law. The previous reference to "non-human" members was unnecessarily confusing.

ARTICLE II—MEMBERSHIP SUSPENSION AND TERMINATION

Section 2.01 governing suspension and reinstatement is simplified without altering the substance of the section.

Section 2.02 governing termination by expulsion and renewed membership is presented in a format that states more clearly the procedure for expulsion, appeal and reinstatement. The substance of the section is not altered.

The substance of the section is not altered.

Section 2.04 deals with changes in the composition of partnerships and continuing liability for dissolved or reconstituted partnerships. The change is principally in format with some modification of language to reflect partnership law generally.

Section 2.05 governs the effect of the termination of membership and the proposed amendments seek to make the language more easily understood. The substance is not changed.

ARTICLE III—MEETINGS OF MEMBERS

Section 3.01 deals with the annual meeting of members and the proposed amendment provides for remote attendance.

Section 3.02 deals with special meetings of members and the proposed amendment provides for remote attendance.

Section 3.03 establishes notice requirements for member meetings and the proposed amendment sets forth requirements for providing notice regarding remote access to member meetings.

Section 3.04 proposes an amendment to bring the quorum requirement into conformity with state law and bylaw provisions which allow for ballots cast in early voting to be counted toward the establishment of a quorum.

Section 3.05(a) contains a proposed amendment which simplifies voting eligibility.

Section 3.05(b) provides a proposed amendment by which a person can demonstrate the authority to cast a vote on behalf of an organizational member.

Section 3.05(c) establishes a procedure for early voting.

Section 3.05(d) authorizes the engagement of a county election department to conduct voting for any meeting.

Section 3.05(e) authorizes advance voting for meetings other than those in which there is a contested trustee election.

Section 3.06 deals with the credentials and election committee, and given the confusion around the role of that committee in the most recent election the proposed amendments seek to clarify the eligibility requirements for appointment to the committee, limit influence by board members, and require the members appointed to the committee to reflect the demographics and diversity of the membership.

Section 3.06.2 carves out of the very broad language of Section 3.06 procedures for organizing the committee. The proposed change is not substantive.

Section 3.06.3 establishes notice and agenda requirements. There is no significant substantive change.

Section 3.06.4 does propose a substantive change which directs the jurisdiction of the committee to reviewing in advance ballots prepared under the direction of the board with the authority of the committee to recommend, but not adopt, changes in ballots. The committee's jurisdiction is also directed to hearing post-election challenges to ballots cast or persons casting ballots. In this new focus the committee will act much as an election commission does to hear and resolve challenges after an election or vote is held. This revised jurisdictional scope should eliminate the conflict that existed previously regarding the authority of this committee to determine the eligibility of candidates for board positions. Under the existing bylaws that authority rests squarely with the board and could not be delegated to this committee.

Section 3.07 simply specifies that the order of business contained in the section relates to member meetings.

ARTICLE IV—TRUSTEES

Section 4.01 confirms that the board cannot delegate its responsibility to committees except those created by the bylaws.

Section 4.02 addresses eligibility of those allowed to serve as trustees, and with respect to the issue of a business relationship between a candidate for trustee and the Cooperative the proposed amendment describes a disqualifying business relationship as either "personal or professional," and eliminates the ambiguous modifier "direct" before business relationship. The proposed amendment also provides for a six year period of disqualification following the termination of a personal or professional business relationship between a candidate and the Cooperative other than the relationship attendant to receiving electric service. In contrast the existing bylaws disqualify a former employee of the Cooperative for a period of twelve (12) years, but the proposed change reduces this period of disqualification to nine (9) years. The proposed amendment also eliminates trustees who are not members, but who are designated as the representative of an organizational member. Allowing only natural members to serve as trustees promotes continuity of leadership that might be diminished by having representatives of organizational members who might be transferred, retire or otherwise become ineligible. The current bylaws do not require the designee of an organizational member to reside in the service area, and this seems likely to diminish the connection between board members and those they serve.

Section 4.02.1 proposes a process by which the qualifications of a nominee for a trustee position may be challenged. This proposed change eliminates confusion that has previously existed with respect to the power to disqualify a candidate for a trustee position. The proposed amendment seeks to clarify the language regarding the disqualification of a sitting board member, but this change is not substantive.

Section 4.03 provides language authorizing advance voting and specifies the documentation necessary for a person to cast a vote for an organizational member.

Section 4.06 separates the elements of the nominating process to make it more accessible. No substantive change was proposed.

Section 4.06(b) seeks to simplify the language describing the process of nominating a candidate by petition. No substantive change is made.

Section 4.06(c) incorporates early voting timing into the notice of candidacy requirements.

Section 4.07 incorporates early voting timing.

Section 4.09 eliminates confusing language regarding the selection of interim trustees in the event of vacancies. The proposed amendment allows interim trustees to be chosen by incumbent board members in the event of a vacancy occurring more than six (6) months prior to an annual meeting. The existing language created an uncertainty as to the power to make an appointment. If the existing language is read to provide that incumbent trustees have the authority to select interim trustees, no substantive change is proposed. On the other hand, if the authority to appoint an interim trustee was vested elsewhere, clarifying that the authority rests with the remaining trustees would constitute a substantive change.

Section 4.14 contains a detailed description of who is a "family member." The proposed amendment seeks to make the definition comprehensive while simplifying the language. The inclusion of "member of household" and relationship by custom may be considered substantive changes, but the goal is to restrict the opportunity for nepotism and self-dealing.

ARTICLE V—MEETINGS OF TRUSTEES

Section 5.02 removes a limitation on the power of the board to act at a special meeting as that limitation is by state law applicable only to emergency meetings and not special meetings.

Section 5.03 corrects what the Office of Regulatory Staff indicates is a concern and that is an express limitation on the authority of the board to act in an emergency meeting. The proposed language is a substantive change that incorporates state law limitations on actions that may be taken in emergency meetings.

Section 5.04 includes notice requirements for emergency meetings and requires notice to be provided to members of the board in a manner calculated to provide actual notice of the meeting. This language is a substantive change to comply with state law.

The proposed language for each section to be amended follows. For a complete version of the proposed changes with the removed language (~~strikethrough~~) and added language (underlined), go to www.fairfield.coop/proposedbylaws2023.

As part of the consideration of such service, each member shall be the Cooperative's bailee of such facilities, and shall desist from interfering with, impairing the operation of or causing damage to such facilities, and shall use the member's best efforts to prevent others from so doing. In the event such facilities are interfered with, impaired in their operation or damaged by the member, or by any other person when the member's reasonable care and surveillance could have prevented such, the member shall indemnify the Cooperative and its employees, agents and independent contractors against death, injury, loss or damage resulting therefrom, including, but not limited to, the Cooperative's cost of repairing, replacing or relocating any such facilities and its loss, if any, of revenues resulting from the failure or defective functioning of its metering equipment. The Cooperative shall, however in accordance with its applicable service rules and regulations, indemnify the member for any overcharges for service that may result from malfunctioning of its metering equipment, or any error occurring in the Cooperative's billing procedures. - (a) Electrical service will not be provided to a suspended member.
- (b) Payment of all amounts due the Cooperative, including any additional charges required for reinstatement and demonstration of compliance with membership obligations will result in an automatic reinstatement of membership which will thereafter cause the member to be eligible to receive electric service from the Cooperative.

Section 2.02. Termination by Expulsion; Renewed Membership
